Many bearts were made glad this week by letters from overseas, messages bearing the foreign postmark and the familiar "Passed as censored" scroll, has made the local mail bags heavy all of this week, but the hearts, of the recipients lighter, to know that all was well with the writer.

Dr. E. L. Grace writes that he is still at a place called Vannes, near the coast in France. His letter bore the date of Scot. 26, and he said it was cold enough while he was writing to wear his sweater and coat, though the patives claimed that it never went to freezing at this point, and that surf bathing was fine all winter. Dr. Grace is established in a Y. M. C. A. hut near this place, which he says is very large, in fact, larger than any one at Chickamauga.

Lieut. Paul Elmore has now been in France one month, having sailed Aug. 20. He is with Company L, 7th regimental infantry.

One of the youngest Chattanooga boys in the service, especially to be an officer, is Lieut. Emmett Cook, son of Mrs. S. B. Cook of Highland park. He is first lieutenant in the Q. M. C. and has been overseas nearly one year. and has been overseas nearly one year, having arrived there Dec. 26, 1917. He has received his chevron for the first six months' service in the war. He went through the Dodds' military school at Washington. The last mail liner brought Mrs. Cook two letters from Lieut. Cook. In both of his let-ters he urges that his two younger brothers, Simeon and Raymond, be kept in military training.

A younger son of Mrs. Cook, Clifton Cook, is a well-known aviator, probably the only graduate of the Curtiss school of aviation from Chattanooga, who has made a wonderful record with his own machine, though only 19 years old. Clifton has made repeated efforts to get into active service, but forts to get into active service, but has been as often rejected, on account of a fractured hip. This was the result of his landing in a blinding dust at the Pittsburg fair, causing him to come down too suddenly.

Knoxville Boy Telis of How Huns Run When Yanks Come.

Letters received from France begin to tell in some detail the part the 113th Field artillery played in the all-14th Field artillery played in the all-14merican drive which cleared up the St. Mihiel salient and sent the Huns running back behind their fortifications at Metz.

The 114th was in the big push that jumped off from the heights of the Meuse in September and reclaimed 150 square miles of France in twenty-eight hours. A letter from Serst. Rowan S. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Webb, Jr., of Knoxville, says the artillery fire was terrific, but that the retreat, of the enemy was so rapid it was impossible to keep in range of him without frequent changing of position.

"I suppose you have heard and seen in the papers of the big drive we have just been through," he writes. "It was the most terrific artillery fire ever known. We freed 150 square miles of French land and scattered the boche in all directions in such haste that the artillery could not keep in range of them half of the time. The infantry's work was also good and would probably be going yet if the artillery had not had so much trouble moving."

Referring to the casualities he says:

"The casualties in the regiment were few. I don't know just how many men were lost, but not more than three or four. I was slightly wounded in the arm, but was not away from my gun but about three minutes—just time to have it dressed."

The lettter is dated Sept. 2s, at which time he says they are a little back from the front now on a rest, "but we will probably pull out again tonight."

"Bad weather has already set in,' he continues, "and I suppose it will be awfully disagreeable for three of four months to come. This big drive went on through mud and rain which made moving hard and the entire work cold and disagreeable."

Sergt. Webb is a member of Battery B. 114th Field artillery. He is one of two brothers who are in the service, the other being T. S. Webb, 3rd, who is attending the training school for machine

"I have had some actual war experience. I have had some actual war experience. I have been in a four-day drive, the biggest drive and most successful we have had since this awful war started. It was all done by American boys. When the Germans saw the boys coming some of them ran and some of them stood fast. The ones that stood were either killed or taken as pris.ners. Our division captured close to a thousand prisoners, saying nothing of those that were killed. They were pretty well fixed in their trenches, but they were not fixed well enough wen the Americans started after them. We also captured large numbers of machine guns and several pleces of artillery. Our drive was a great success and everybody is now ready to boost our division.

"I am sending you a souvenir which was taken off of a German prisoner. It is a 5-mark plece of German money. I do not know the value of it. I went through the drive without a scratch, but I consider myself lucky."

Tells How He Got Relief.

"I have tried a great many things for constipation, but the only thing that has been able to relieve me is Milks Emulsion. I am on only my second bottle and have to take very little of it now. My bowels move regularly every morning, which they have not been doing for a number of years. It seems like living again, after suffering so long. I recommended Milks Emulsion to two of my friends and both say it is the best remedy they ever heard of."—Elmer C. Brooks, 329 Washington St., Peoria, III.

Constipation weakens the bowel muscles. Saits and purgatives only increase this condition. Milks Emulsion is a real corrective remedy—one that you can try, under its guaranty, without risking a cent.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.
